FACULTY

Matthew J. Bair, MD, MS is a core investigator for the VA Health Services Research and Development Center for Health Information and Communication, an attending physician in the Inpatient Medicine Service at Richard L. Roudebush VA Medical Center, and Associate Professor of Medicine in the Indiana University School of Medicine. His specific program of research is focused on affective disorders (e.g. depression and anxiety) and chronic pain and developing strategies to improve pain management in the primary care setting. Dr. Bair currently serves as editorial board member for the journals Pain Medicine and Pain Practice and deputy editor for the Journal of General Internal Medicine. He is director of the Health Services Research & Development Advanced Fellowship Program at Roudebush VA Medical Center, and teaches implementation research methods and evidence-based medicine to medical residents, fellows, and IUPUI junior faculty. In 2013, IU medical students selected him as “Outstanding Educator”, and in 2014, he received an Indiana University Teaching Award for his instruction in the Student Outpatient Clinic.

Daniel G. Tobin, MD, FACP is an Assistant Professor at the Yale University School of Medicine and serves as the Medical Director for the Primary Care Center at the Saint Raphael's Campus of Yale-New Haven Hospital. Additionally, Dr. Tobin attends on the inpatient wards at Yale-New Haven Hospital and is core faculty for the Yale Primary Care Internal Medicine Residency Program where he helps to develop and oversee the ambulatory education of the residents. Dr. Tobin is currently the Chair of the Board of Regional Leaders for the Society of General Internal Medicine (SGIM) and serves on the SGIM National Leadership Council as well as the Governor's Council for the CT Chapter of the American College of Physicians. He is also a Past-President for the New England Region of SGIM. His primary area of academic interest is the study of prescription drug abuse, opioid safety, and chronic pain management. Dr. Tobin lectures on these topics nationally and has partnered with public health leaders and elected officials in Connecticut to develop and promote legislation supporting the safe use and disposal of opioids throughout the state.

SCOPE of Pain
Safe and Competent Opioid Prescribing Education

WHY ATTEND THIS TRAINING?

The FDA has mandated manufacturers of extended release/long-acting (ER/LA) opioid analgesics, as part of a comprehensive Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy (REMS), to make available comprehensive prescriber education in the safe use of these medications. Our training is based on the FDA curriculum known as the Blueprint for Prescriber Education for Extended Release and Long-Acting Opioid (ER/LA) Analgesics, providing a comprehensive educational program.
