

Health Lives Here In Wisconsin

FY20 ANNUAL REPORT

Department of Family Medicine and Community Health
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AND PUBLIC HEALTH

Welcome

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY MEDICINE AND COMMUNITY HEALTH (DFMCH) ADVANCES HEALTH AND WELL-BEING BY CARING, TEACHING, DISCOVERING, LEADING, AND CONNECTING.

The DFMCH was created in 1970 as one of the original 15 family medicine residency programs in the nation—and is consistently ranked a top 10 family medicine department.

We educate medical students, residents, fellows; provide outstanding primary care; conduct innovative research; and promote healthy communities.

This executive summary highlights our activities from July 1, 2019, through June 30, 2020. For the full report, visit fammed.wisc.edu/annual-report/fy2020

HONORING OUR FACULTY

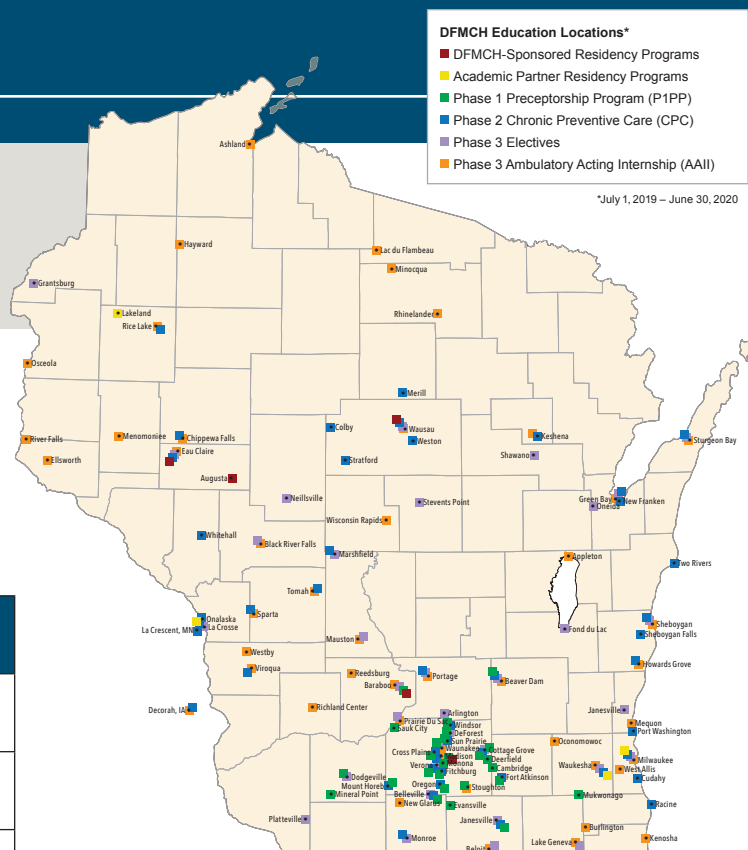

Zorba Paster, MD, a family physician at SSM Health Dean Medical Group, is a shining proponent of family medicine for medical students and our community. His roles are many and enduring.

He directly teaches students and residents and sponsors multiple scholarships to recognize student involvement in underserved populations. He has been a trusted voice and guide to health for people, not only in Wisconsin, but also across the nation through his radio call-in show of many years. Generations of physicians and community members have benefitted from his dedication!

The DFMCH thanks Dr. Paster and the 248 clinical adjunct faculty statewide who provided learning experiences for students and residents in FY20.

SUSAN WENKER, PT, PHD, RECEIVES JOAN M. MILLS AND DISTINGUISHED EDUCATOR AWARDS

Susan Wenker, PT,
PhD

Doctor of Physical Therapy Program.

Dr. Wenker was honored with the Joan M. Mills and Distinguished Educator awards by APTA Geriatrics—an Academy of the American Physical Therapy Association—in February 2020. She is an assistant professor in the Department of Family Medicine and Community Health and a member of the teaching faculty for the

The Joan M. Mills award honors an APTA Geriatrics member who has given outstanding service to the Academy and a commitment to excellence in the delivery of therapy to older adults. The Distinguished Educator award recognizes an APTA Geriatrics member for excellence in teaching and presenting geriatrics content in an engaging manner. Wenker's research interests include program development and interprofessional clinical simulation in geriatrics—particularly related to dementia and exercise—and she takes many approaches to create interest in the field.

Education

IN FY20, 66 PERCENT OF RESIDENTS WHO GRADUATED FROM OUR SPONSORED AND ACADEMIC PARTNER PROGRAMS ENTERED PRACTICE IN WISCONSIN.

RHET AND ADDICTION MEDICINE FELLOWSHIP RECEIVE DHS GRANT FUNDING

Two DFMCH programs received grants from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) to support education. The DFMCH Rural Health Equity Track (RHET) and the Addiction Medicine Fellowship were among the recipients deemed programs that “embody the Wisconsin Idea” by Governor Tony Evers. “They are excellent models of promoting academic rigor and intellectual activities while working closely with forward-thinking community partners,” said Evers.

This award was a continuation of grant support for RHET, which is based at the Belleville Clinic. Two residents in each class are on the track, and the grant will sustain the expanded number of residents in Belleville—funding one resident starting in 2020-2021 and two residents starting in 2021-2022 through the end of their training.

The Addiction Medicine Fellowship, established in 2010, will use the award to support primary care physicians in rural Wisconsin via Project ECHO (Extension for Community Health Care Outcomes). The project offers free, monthly video conferences to help providers—especially those in primary care and who prescribe medication-assisted therapy—reduce the risk of opioid-related complications. The grant will also support clinical experiences for fellows at Rogers Behavioral Health in Oconomowoc and will allow the program to pursue expansion of its rural rotation to the Marshfield Clinic.

DFMCH FACULTY RECEIVE UW HEALTH AWARDS

Fourteen DFMCH physicians and advanced practice providers received UW Health Patient Experience Provider Champion Awards in 2019. Provider Champion Awards honor exemplary communication skills as recognized by ambulatory patients through survey feedback from 2018. Winners scored in the top 10 percent within their department for the survey item, “Provider’s effort to include you in decisions about your treatment.” In addition, the UW Health Cross Plains Family Medicine Clinic, led by medical director Pamela Olson, MD, and clinic manager LuAnn White, and the UW Health Cottage Grove Clinic led by Christa Pittner-Smith, MD, and Lea Veltum received UW Health Team awards.

Research

THROUGH INQUIRY, DISCOVERY, AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT, DFMCH RESEARCHERS TACKLE WISCONSIN'S HEALTH CHALLENGES AND AIM TO TRANSFORM PRIMARY CARE PRACTICE.

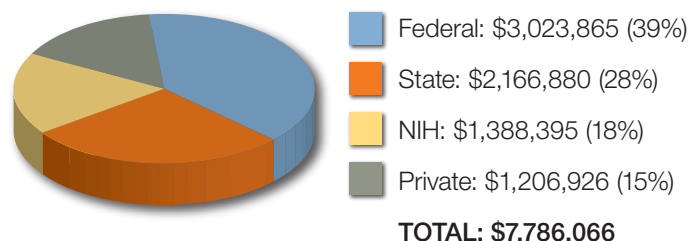

LEADERSHIP: BRUCE BARRETT, MD, PHD

RESEARCH HIGHLIGHTS

In FY20, the DFMCH had $7.8 million in grant awards. Major projects focused on addiction and substance misuse prevention and treatment, infectious disease surveillance and systems-engineering approaches for improving ambulatory care.

The Wisconsin Research and Education Network, a statewide practice-based research network of primary care clinicians and researchers, conducted multiple clinical trials across a wide range of indications relevant to primary care.

RESEARCH FUNDING SOURCES, FY20

Mary Henningfield, PhD (pictured above at a patient advocacy town hall), is the associate director of the Wisconsin Research Education Network (WREN). She is a principal investigator for the Wisconsin Voices for Recovery, ED2Recovery+, and Engagement to Recovery (OD2A) projects where she works with clinicians and communities to reduce opioid-related harms and improve outcomes in people with opioid use disorders.

Her research interests include studies of opioid prescribing, chronic pain, shared-decision making, community engagement, and ways to support the recovery of persons with substance use disorder.

Special Events

EACH YEAR, THE DFMCH HOLDS SEVERAL SPECIAL EVENTS THAT BRING TOGETHER FACULTY, STAFF, LEARNERS, FRIENDS AND GUESTS.

MCGOVERN-TRACY AND STUDENT SCHOLARS AWARD CEREMONY

The McGovern-Tracy and Students Scholars awards program honors medical students or DFMCH residents who exemplify outstanding community service, outreach and leadership.

EUGENE FARLEY VISITING PROFESSORSHIP

The Eugene Farley Visiting Professorship honors Eugene and Linda Farley and their contributions to the DFMCH and the discipline of family medicine. Each year, the DFMCH invites a nationally known family physician to share experiences, stimulate discussion and explore ideas.

RENNER/HANSEN AWARD CEREMONY

The Renner/Hansen awards program honors outstanding achievements in the DFMCH or field of family medicine.

John H. Renner "Wisconsin Idea" Award Recipient: Cynthia Haq, MD, (above on right) with Valerie Gilchrist, MD, received the award for her exemplary commitment to family medicine and underserved areas in Wisconsin where she practiced in rural Belleville and urban Milwaukee. Currently chair of the University of California-Irvine Department of Family Medicine, Dr. Haq opened her lecture by noting, "once you're from Wisconsin, you're always from Wisconsin."

JOYCE JEARDEAU POSTHUMOUSLY HONORED BY AAFP AS FAMILY MEDICINE INTEREST GROUP WINS 7TH PROGRAM OF EXCELLENCE AWARD

Joyce Jeardeau, center, joined a group of students to accept the AAFP Family Medicine Interest Group Program of Excellence Award in 2018—one of seven the program has received. Joyce died on July 4, 2020, after a brief battle with cancer.

DFMCH Medical Education Program Coordinator Joyce Jeardeau was posthumously honored at the 2020 American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) National Conference of Residents and Students with the inaugural AAFP award for Special Recognition for Contributions of Faculty or Staff to an FMIG. Joyce died after a brief battle with cancer on July 4. In a final nod to Joyce's commitment and spirit, the DFMCH FMIG won its 7th Program of Excellence Award. "This award is a testament to Joyce's work and dedication," said Jacob Bryan, MD, FMIG faculty advisor. "She embodied those values of compassion and integrity that are at the core of what it means to be a family doctor. She helped keep us grounded, reminding us always that what is important is caring for our patients and each other."

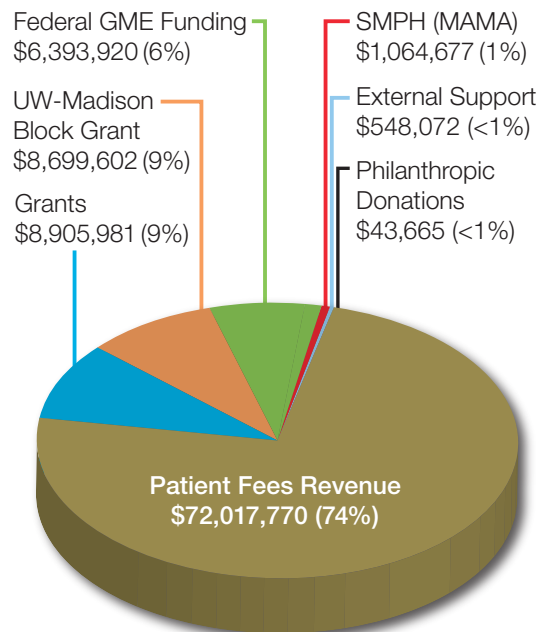

WE ARE DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO THE INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS BELOW WHO MADE PHILANTHROPIC DONATIONS TO OUR DEPARTMENT IN FY20.
