Award Descriptions:

Compassion in Action (CIA), CIA Community Leadership, CIA International Leadership and CIA Tibetan Delek Hospital in India Awards: As a result of a generous gift from Dr. Zorba and Penny Paster, and on behalf of the Paster Family Foundation, the Compassion in Action awards have been established to support “a disadvantaged community or population that suffers, because it lacks sufficient necessities for the health and well-being of its members”:

- The Compassion in Action awards are presented in recognition of first-year medical students who desire to do “good work” in a disadvantaged community.
- The Compassion in Action Community Health Leadership awards are presented in recognition of third or fourth-year medical students who, in the course of their medical school education, developed, implemented or improved health care in a disadvantaged community.
- The Compassion in Action International Health Leadership awards are presented in recognition of third or fourth-year medical students who, in the course of their medical school education, developed, implemented or improved health care in a disadvantaged international community.
- The Compassion in Action Tibetan Delek Hospital award is presented to a medical student to offset their living expenses as they work to develop and implement a process to improve the care of the disadvantaged community at the Delek Hospital in Dharamsala, India.

Dr. Lester Brillman Scholarship, Leadership and Advocacy, and Mentorship in Family Medicine Awards: The Dr. Lester Brillman Scholarships recognize graduating fourth-year medical students at the UW SMPH who are planning a career in family medicine and who demonstrate excitement and involvement in the specialty. The Dr. Lester Brillman Leadership and Advocacy Award recognizes a graduating fourth-year medical student at the UW SMPH who is planning a career in family medicine and meets the following criteria:

- Demonstrates ongoing, consistent leadership within Family Medicine at the medical school and state/ regional/national level
- Serves as a role model for peers
- Participates in advocacy efforts that foster Family Medicine locally, nationally or globally
- Exhibits academic and clinical excellence
- Maintain high levels of professional behavior

The Dr. Lester Brillman Mentorship in Family Medicine Award recognizes the contributions of faculty and community preceptors who nurture and sustain student interest in family medicine through their roles as clinicians, educators and/or researchers.

Founders Award from the Wisconsin Academy of Family Physicians (WAFP): The Founders Award is given to an outstanding fourth-year medical student who is pursuing a career in family medicine and has exhibited interest in fostering the concepts of family medicine as a medical student.

Robert K. and Irma F. Korbitz Endowed Scholarships: This award is named for Dr. Robert Korbitz, a family physician from Monona, and his wife, Irma, and is offered by their surviving children. The Korbitz Endowed Scholarships are given to third- or fourth-year medical students with a strong interest in the field of family medicine as a focus of their training.

Vogel Foundation Scholarship: This award was established by the Vogel Foundation and recognizes one or more fourth year medical students planning to pursue a career in family medicine with an emphasis on providing care for underserved populations.

Jan Ashe Memorial Award for Excellence in Community Radiography: This award is presented annually to a student graduating from the UW Health School of Radiographic Technology (SORT) who displays superior technical skills, an ability to communicate with patients, and has a caring, empathetic approach to people, especially families.

McGovern-Tracy Scholars (Student and Resident) Awards: The Department of Family Medicine and Community Health is able to offer these awards through the generosity of Isabel McGovern Kerr and her family. Her bequest to the department serves as a reminder of her family's service and commitment to the State of Wisconsin. The awards also honor Michele Tracy, whose spirit and record of service to communities exemplifies McGovern-Tracy Scholars. After completing her undergraduate degree at the UW, Michelle joined AmeriCorps VISTA in the Peekskill Area Health Center in New York which serves low-income individuals. Her work involved community education of homeless and HIV populations. While at the Peekskill Area Health Center, she published "Healthy Transitions" and presented at national conferences on these issues. Michelle deferred medical school admission for one year to continue the community projects she began. When she started medical school in the fall of 1998, her passion for improving the health of the underserved communities drove her extensive involvement in MEDIC and LOCUS. Michele worked on an educational program to help the residents of the Porchlight community, which was administered by MEDIC and now bears her name. Michele was a second-year UW medical student when she tragically died in an accident while participating in an educational service program in Malawi, Africa in July 1999. The Michele Tracy Project focuses on improving health care through education and empowerment.
